

Calico

Bespoke Wallpaper

Eschewing traditional repeat-pattern printing, Brooklyn-based studio Calico Wallpaper is making something exceptional in the world of wallpaper. Produced with the help of digital enlargement, the award-winning designer brand moves art beyond the frame by creating custom fit, non-repeating wall murals.

Calico Wallpaper creates wholly customizable and non-repeating wall art that elevates truly one-of-a-kind environments.

Founded in Brooklyn, New York in 2013, Rachel and Nick Cope of Calico Wallpaper creates large-scale designs and textures that blend artisanal, sometimes ancient methods with various modes of modern design.

Highlights from the full collection

Aurora | Bayou

Aurora Collection

Known as the studio's signature collection, Aurora reflects on the endless variation in each day's cycle of dawn and dusk through seamless gradients that glow like the distant horizon.

Aurora | Ray

Wabi Collection

Another signature print from Calico. Influenced by the Japanese concept of Wabi-Sabi, Wabi's fluid design evokes the feeling of water flowing over pebbles.

Lunaris Collection

A meditative journey through lunar landscapes. Lunaris draws inspiration from the topography of distant planets and, delving into the mysteries of the moon.

Lunaris | Midnight

Palette Collection

Inspired by the traces left by artistic explorations, Palette celebrates the expansive possibilities of color. The dappled pattern of Palette is suggestive of the motions of cumulative brushstrokes, of process and practices returned to again and again.

Palette | Agnes

Topographies Collection

A collaboration with Snarkitecture. Topographies transforms a three-dimensional exercise into a two-dimensional wall covering. The resulting wallcovering implies an unknown architectural depth within the flat surface of the wall.

Topographies | Winter

Sumi Collection

Sumi is named after the Japanese tradition of Suminagashi marbling. Drawing on this time-honored technique, Calico crafted a series of seven Sumi colorways, which evoke the shape of earth, stone, water, and air.

Sumi | Stone

Inverted Spaces Collection

A collaboration with Amsterdam's BCXSY concept design studio, Inverted Spaces transforms NASA satellite imagery into a series of constellational portraits, exploring the beauty of the infinite expansion of the universe.

Noir Collection

A collaboration with French designer Sam Baron, Noir is a collection paying homage to the meticulous focus of the French artist Pierre Soulages who is famous for a practice he calls "Outrenoir". The result is a bold papier-peint collection characterized by broad brushstrokes that capture the richness that is revealed through restraint and study.

Wanderlust Collection

Inspired by the paintings of Henri Rousseau, many of which were conceived in botanical gardens near his home in Paris, the collection delves into the depths of an exotic landscape embellished by the imagination.
